

MIXED CONDITIONALS

Complete the sentences putting the verbs in the correct form to make mixed second and third conditional sentences. Remember that a mixed conditional refers to a hypothetical past situation that has a result or consequence in the present/future.

1. If I _____ (study) abroad last year, I _____ (speak) Spanish fluently now.
2. If they _____ (invest) in Bitcoin a few years ago, they _____ (be) millionaires today.
3. If she _____ (start) her business earlier, she _____ (have) more clients now.
4. If we _____ (save) money instead of spending it all, we _____ (be) able to buy a house next year.
5. If he _____ (take) that job offer in New York, he _____ (live) in a different city now.
6. If they _____ (not move) to another country, they _____ (not meet) each other.
7. If I _____ (not lose) my passport, I _____ (not have) to apply for a new one.
8. If she _____ (study) harder in school, she _____ (have) more career opportunities now.
9. If they _____ (not miss) the train, they _____ (arrive) on time for the meeting.
10. If he _____ (learn) to play the piano as a child, he _____ (be) a talented musician today.

ANSWER KEY

1. If I had studied abroad last year, I would speak Spanish fluently now.
2. If they had invested in Bitcoin a few years ago, they would be millionaires today.
3. If she had started her business earlier, she would have more clients now.
4. If we had saved money instead of spending it all, we would be able to buy a house next year.
5. If he had taken that job offer in New York, he would live in a different city now.
6. If they had not moved to another country, they would not have met each other.
7. If I had not lost my passport, I would not have to apply for a new one.
8. If she had studied harder in school, she would have more career opportunities now.
9. If they had not missed the train, they would have arrived on time for the meeting.
10. If he had learned to play the piano as a child, he would be a talented musician today. 1.